How Do I Get an Australian Police Check?

Nationally Coordinated Criminal History Checks · https://workerchecks.com/fr/documents/how-do-i-get-an-australian-police-check/

Obtaining an Australian police check is a quick and straightforward process. Most people applying for employment, licences, volunteer roles or compliance requirements complete a Nationally Coordinated Criminal History Check, which can be ordered online through an ACIC-accredited provider such as Worker Checks. Once submitted, your result is delivered securely to your digital portal as soon as processing is complete.

Below is a step-by-step guide covering everything you need to know before you begin.

1. Choose the Correct Type of Police Check

There are three main types of police checks in Australia:

A. Nationally Coordinated Criminal History Check (NCCHC)

Formerly known as a National Police Check.
Most common check in Australia
Accepted for employment, volunteering, licensing and onboarding
Delivered by ACIC-accredited providers (including Worker Checks)
Fastest turnaround — around 80% returned within 1–3 minutes

B. Australian Federal Police (AFP) Check

Required for immigration, visa applications, and some Commonwealth roles
Issued directly by the AFP
Worker Checks doesn’t currently offer AFP checks. You can apply directly with the Australian Federal Police.

C. International Police Checks

Needed when the applicant has lived overseas
Varies depending on the issuing country

If you're unsure which check you need, your employer or organisation should tell you the correct type.

2. Gather Your Required Identity Documents

To complete a Nationally Coordinated Criminal History Check online, you must provide:

- Your full legal name(s) – past and present
- Date and place of birth
- Gender information
- 5 years of residential address history
- Three identity documents (one from each approved group):
  - Primary ID (passport or driver licence)
  - Secondary ID (e.g., Medicare card, utility bill)
  - Supporting ID (e.g., student ID, government-issued photo ID)

Your documents must be:

- For passport or drivers license - you must have the original card (not a copy, image or a screenshot) - during biometric verification of identity the system will assess your passport or drivers license for authenticity.
- In English (or have an accredited translation)
- Other ID documents can be uploaded as photos or clear scans (no editing or filters)
- But your first Primary ID document (passport or license) must be the actual item (not a copy)
